But dump may die also

Mori dump bill killed in Senate committee

SACRAMENTO — A bill that would have prohibited Kaiser's controversial dump adjacent to Pleasanton died in a senate committee Monday.

It appears, however, that if Kaiser wishes to proceed with its proposal to fill 775 acres of depleted gravel pits with either garbage or inert construction material, that firm will have to reapply for a county use permit.

The legislation which would have prohibited Kaiser's proposal was authored by Assemblyman Floyd Mori, former mayor of Pleasanton.

The bill stated that dump sites within two miles of a community would need the concurrence of that community.

That bill received approval in the State Assembly but the Senate Committee on Local Government refused to report it out of committee Monday which, Mori said, effectively kills it.

The main concern of the seven-member senate committee was the bill's "financial effect" on those dump applications which have already gone through the costly environmental impact process, Mori added.

Mori expressed disappointment with the senate committee's action but he noted that Kaiser would have to reapply for a permit for the land fill because its original time limit had expired.

He also said the proposal would now have to conform to the county's Solid Waste Management Plan, which had not been completed when the original application had been filed.

Kaiser's application to fill those 775 acres with garbage was first filed nearly four years ago.

Because opposition to that project has been so widespread in the valley, Kaiser announced last month heir application would be modified so that only inert construction material would be allowed in the land fill and garbage would be prohibited.

County Planning Director Bill Fraley and a Kaiser spokesman confirmed that the old permit granted by the county was no longer valid and the permit procedure would have to be started all over again.

The Kaiser spokesman said the firm would reapply to both the county and the Regional Water Quality Control Board (which must set discharge requirements for the project) as soon as the court order is amended.

That court order was the result of a lawsuit filed by Kaiser against the State Water Resources Control Board because of standards that agency set for the original dump which made the project virtually infeasible.

Kaiser successfully petitioned the court to force the SWRCB to reopen its hearings but, in view of the modified application, that action will not be necessary.

No LAFCO decision until Nov.

Alameda County Bureau

HAYWARD — If the Local Agency Formation Commission decides Thursday to reconsider Livermore's sphere of influence, the requests of nearly 100 property owners to be removed from that sphere will most likely not be heard until November.

More than 70 property owners had requested to be excluded from the sphere at LAFCO's July meeting. At that time, the commission continued their requests for one month.

Since that time, LAFCO Executive Office Roland Mayne said in his report to the commission, an additional 23 petitions for exclusion have been received.

In his report, Mayne said he does not believe the commission should be influenced in its decision to review or not review the sphere by the fact that Livermore has filed a lawsuit against LAFCO.

He added, if the commission does decide to reconsider the sphere of influence for Livermore, the following three alternatives should be considered:

√ A sphere generally reflecting the existing boundaries of Livermore.

√ The previously adopted sphere of influence for the city.

√ A sphere as proposed by the city, encompassing areas as far north as the county line, and those southerly to the extent of proposed development.

Mayne said such consideration could not be done before early November because, although a new environmental impact statement "would draw heavily upon the work which has already been done," it would also "need to reflect conditions which have changed since the original EIR was done."

If the commission does agree to reconsider the sphere, which has been opposed by Livermore, Mayne suggested a work session.

The LAFCO meeting will begin at 4 p.m. Thursday in the Alameda County Public Works Building, 399 Elmhurst St.

Board to set tax rate

Alameda County Bureau

OAKLAND — The Alameda County Board of Supervisors will set the property tax rate for the 1975-76 fiscal year at this morning's meeting.

County Administrator Loren Enoch had originally proposed an increase of 13 cents per $100 of assessed valuation but the supervisors will consider a request from the Alameda County Taxpayers Association to maintain the present $3.03 tax rate.

The ACTA contends that tax rate could be maintained if the supervisors defer a $6 million allocation for the Hayward pre-trial detention facility, since construction on that center will not begin until early 1977 in any event.

The board will also consider appeals from two valley agencies which receive county revenue sharing funds to increase their recommended allocation.

The Twin Valley Counseling Service has been allocated $19,664, nearly $30,000 below its request. Dublin Hotline has asked for $110,800 and has been allocated $63,148.

The board will also consider whether to grant a 7 percent cost of living increase to all revenue sharing contractors and will also consider whether to schedule hearings on new requests for the remaining revenue sharing funds.

The supervisors meeting will begin at 9 a.m. today in the Alameda County Administration Building, 1221 Oak St.

Volunteers want more money

Firemen won't answer calls

PLEASANTON — A spokesman for the city's 11 volunteer firemen said yesterday the firemen would no longer respond to calls until they are paid for their services.

Reuben Starkman, a hair stylist, said the volunteers want $10 per call. He said that would come to a maximum cost of $5,250 per year for the city, less than half the salary of one full-time, paid fireman.

The volunteers were paid $7.50 per call until last spring, Starkman said, when the city decided that because of uncertain provisions of the Federal Fair Labor Standards Act, it would withhold pay.

Pleasanton is one of the cities that is contesting the act by its membership in the League of California Cities which, through the National League of Cities, has taken the matter to court. The act's provisions are being contested by 18 states, Starkman said.

The 11 volunteers (a 12th recently resigned) last week sent a letter to the city manager, city attorney and the council saying that the volunteers would refuse calls unless they were paid.

City Atty. Ken Sheidig yesterday said the League of California Cities in January warned that provisions of the act, which would require that anyone paid by the city receive minimum wage, could be retroactive.

Therefore, despite the ongoing litigation, the city chose to take a conservative route by withholding pay altogether, Sheidig said. He said the U.S. Department of Labor agreed with the action.

The question of pay for volunteer firemen was expected to go before councilmen last night. Mayor Pro Tem Bill Herlihy said he would raise the issue because "I think this is the sort of thing we ought to reimburse if at all legal or possible."

He said volunteers sometimes damage their clothing and ought to be paid for it. "I think there has to be some compensation of some kind for their response (to fire calls)," he said.

The city fire department said there had been no occassion to call up volunteers since the letter, signed by 10 of the 11 volunteers, was sent Tuesday night. Starkman said volunteers are usually called between 30 and 35 times a year.

Pleasanton has a 26-member, full-time fire department. In addition, the city has a volunteer reserve of police who have never been paid although they have worked 14,000 hours in the last nine years.

City staff was expected to recommend to the council Monday night that volunteer firemen continue not to be paid.

Evangelical Free Church wants to sell its land

Alameda County Bureau

HAYWARD — It appears the Evangelical Free Church will face little opposition — at least from neighboring property owners — in its efforts to rezone a five-acre parcel on Martin Avenue near Pleasanton.

The Alameda County Planning Commission took testimony Monday on the church's request to rezone the five acres to allow three homes on the property and then continued the matter until Sept. 8.

The church purchased the land five years ago with the hopes of building a church on it. Opposition from neighbors, however, forced them to abandon those plans.

As William Bahr, chairman of the church, told the commission Monday, since the church cannot build on the property, its only option is to sell it. "We are a small congregation," he added, "and we can't afford to let the land lie fallow." He said the church would like to build elsewhere in Pleasanton but they will need the revenue from the sale of the property in order to afford to purchase land elsewhere.

The land is now zoned so that only one structure could be built on it. If the church's request is granted, it would be split into three building sites, although five could conceivably be allowed.

The same neighbors who were opposed to the church's construction plans appeared at Monday's meeting to say they were in favor of the subdivision application.

Commissioner Martin Kauffman's main concern appeared to be the lack of public utilities in the area and he said, if the church were allowed to sell the rezoned property, it would put the burden of providing utilities on the new owner. "I am sympathetic to the church," he added, "but I don't see a way to bail you out."

Bahr said, at some time in the future sewer and water lines will be available for the property and, if the church could afford to hold the land, they would because its value would be much higher five or 10 or 15 years down the road. But, he added, the church cannot wait that long.

The commission continued the rezoning request until Sept. 8 and asked Planning Director Bill Fraly to prepare a report on the possible use of holding tanks in that area.

Woman's body found near Castlewood CC

PLEASANTON — Two women out for an early morning walk discovered the body of a young black woman off Foothill Road near Castlewood Drive yesterday, according to Alameda County deputy sheriffs.

The woman's body was found some 50-feet from Foothill Road, deputies said, about a quarter-mile south of Castlewood

There was "no outside evidence of foul play," and deputies are hard pressed to find a cause of death.

The woman was found fully clothed, they said, curled up on the ground as though she had lain down. There were no signs of the body having been dragged to the scene.

She was wearing rings and other jewelry, but no purse or identification was found.

The woman was clothed in brown slacks, a red and yellow print blouse and brown suede shoes.

The body of a woman shot to death was found earlier this year in the same vicinity.

Two 'Girl Fridays' at Alisal School

PLEASANTON— Lorayne Carico came to her secretary's job at Alisal School via weeding in her front yard and an informal interview in the front room of neighbor Eloise McNutt's home.

Elaine Parmenter arrived at Alisal's main office the same year but through a distinctly more conventional manner. Both went to work for then-principal Jack Mann and they've been at Alisal ever since.

The year was 1964 and the informality and the length of service bespeak highly of the Pleasanton School District.

Alisal, the second-oldest school in Pleasanton, really hasn't changed too much over the years but the area around it has.

When Jim Scott's Ladies Friday (and Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, too) came on board, the surrounding lands were more Marlboro Country than suburbia. The park (Amador Community), shopping center and housing tracts to the north didn't exist.

As Elaine explains it, one of the attractions for her children then was gazing out the window and watching the cowboys ride herd on the dogies!

How times have changed these past dozen years.

Alisal's enrollment circa 1964 was under 500, housed in 13 classrooms and without the pod that is now such an integral part of life at the school.

It has changed several times between K-5 and K-6 but is now solidly K-5. But don't count on it not changing again. Building activity to the north is underway again and Alisal may yet return to the roll of "overflow school."

Whenever they recall the "old days", they have plenty of company. Nancy Herman, Ethel Friedman and Fannie Annis of the teaching staff and Ruby McDonald in the cafeteria are also Alisal pioneers.

Early in her tenure at the school, Mrs. Carico did secretarial work for both Alisal School and the former district facility at Parks.

Both recall double sessions when Pleasanton Valley was building. "We actually had two schools here," Lorayne comments, in noting the period of double sessions between Sept., 1966 and Feb., 1967.

Crowding is the one headache, according to both.

And both point to the little room in the central office structure that becomes parent conference area, testing room or temporary space for supplies.

But the instances of exasperation are rare.

In fact, the two believe the atmosphere at Alisal is exceptional.

"We have always had the most fabulous groups of students and parents. And that's because of the excellent faculty and administrators," states Mrs. Carico.

"And the teachers do many things to help each other," chimes in Mrs. Parmenter.

Asked how the school has functioned through the rapid growth era and the concurrent potential for disorganization, Mrs. Carico comments that "Anytime you find an area mushrooming like Pleasanton has, with hundreds of new employees coming into the district, you're bound to have differences of opinion on how to handle certain situations. But I find that you have to talk things out."

Mrs. Parmenter adds, "Many of the staff have been here for 15 or 20 years and their ideas may be different from those of recent graduates. But they're all after the same ends....they just go about it in different ways.

The two are quite appreciative of principal Jim Scott's thoughtfullness. When Scott came to Alisal from Brentwood he felt "the place needed cheering up." So Scott set about getting new paneling and desks for his secretarial staff and brought in carpeting from the defunct Parks school.

With a work force of Scott, school psychologist Hugh Bain and several parents, the office was "remodeled." Carpet was put in at minimal cost by the Cooper firm.

Here, again, the cooperativeness and small community spirit shows up.

It is also evidenced by Elaine's very presence.

For, because of budget cutbacks, her position was eliminated a year ago. But she has continued as a full-time volunteer with no assurance that her paid position will be restored.

The spirit of a small community school indeed lives in the front office at Alisal.

Elliott homes win variance

PLEASANTON— Despite the protest of disgruntled homeowners, the city council Monday night approved a variance for H.C. Elliott, Inc., allowing six homes to encroach upon the 23-foot setbacks required for the front yards.

The decision overturned an August 4 ruling by the Board of Adjustments, which denied the variance on the grounds that it was a special exception for Elliott.

The company, which is building 45 homes in the area, had by mistake allowed seven homes to encroach by as much as three feet.

The homes are in various stages of construction with foundations dug, plumbing installed, frames built or slabs poured.

Harry Elliott, Jr., who appeared the council, agreed to relocate the seventh home because the house's cement had not been poured.

Councilwoman Joyce LeClaire seemed to voice the opinion of the council when she said she didn't feel the delay or "extreme cost" of relocating the homes was required or justified and that it would be a hardship on those who had already purchased the homes.

Bob Kroetch, 818 Sylvaner Dr., who owns a home previously built in the Vintage Hills tract, presented a petition to the council signed by seven other Vintage Hills homeowners asking that the variance be denied.

The eight had been upset for some time over alleged defects in their homes, which had been built by Elliott, and which they believe the developer should correct.

Pleasanton's sharp shot

Pleasanton's detective Sergeant Ed Valin narrowly missed a spot on the 1975 Police Olympics — and a trip to Mexico Cihy — when he placed fourth in trap shoot at the recent Ventura County shoot-off. His spectacular 99 out of 100 brought the 15-year veteran of the force a second place, but — alas — he finished fourth after eliminations. Some 70 California lawmen vied for two vacancies on the Olympic team. Valin was Alameda County's only representative and one of eight officers from Northern California. Two thousand entrants will compete in 37 events at the Olympics. Ed vows to smoke 'em at next year's San Jose meet. The '76 Olympics in Hawaii may increase his verve.

When relatives drop in for a summer visit — all twenty of them!

By REINA WHITNEY

It's summer. Time for visiting. And the relatives come.

And the relatives came all the way from Toronto — all twenty of them in a big white school bus converted into a giant camper complete with beds, kitchen and a bath

There's Nick and Marion Barber and their thirteen children — Bernadette 16, twins Joanna and Hilary 5, Margaret 13, Stella 12, Dominic 10, Sarah 9, Katherine 7, Thomas 5, Marion 4, Nichole 2, and John 9 months.

With them in the bus were Marion's sister Lyette Alley and her three children — Denise 16, Francine 15, Annette 12. And Rudolph, bachelor brother of Marion and Lyette

They all came to visit a brother and sister-in-law in San Ramon, Barney and Gerarda Stocking. The Stockings (whose enterprise in the bakery business was featured July 13 in Lifestyle) have three children of their own — Damian. Rachel and Emily. Brothers Joe and Ben Stocking also live close by in Pleasanton.

Grandma and Grandpa Hezlyn, and Gertie Stocking were visiting from England, and it was their chance to see all the family for the first time in seven years at a grand old family reunion.

What better reason for a visit? What did it matter that 29 people would somehow have to be fed, housed and entertained?

Gerarda and Barney Stocking, owners of Stocking's Bakery in Livermore, had looked forward to the big visit for weeks, freezing pastries, cookies and cakes in anticipation.

Nick Barber and Rudy Stocking traded driving chores and made the trip from Canada in just four days of driving. The family in California, anticipated their arrival by meeting them in Reno and escorting the group the rest of the way home. They've been inseparable ever since.

lifestyle

The attempt to show off California to 29 people all at once isn't without its interesting moments. After every excursion a roll call is taken of all the children to make sure everyone is assembled before the group proceeds to the next stop. While visiting Marine World, all the children answered "present" and they rode gaily off — but forgot Grandma Stocking.

Dominic Stocking was lost two and a half hours during an excursion to Golden Gate Park but had the presence of mind to walk into a police station and declare himself lost.

Dominic Barber (top) and Damian Stocking relax on one set of 20 beds built into the converted school bus used to accommodate the Barber family on a trip from Canada. The compact quarters boast a kitchenette, a water closet and storage for the traveling group of twenty.

This is the whole crew — all 29 (count them!) of the relatives enjoying an extended reunion at the Stocking home in San Ramon. They pose with the bus which carried most of the group from Canada.

A camping trip to Yosemite for four days held its anxious moments when the overloaded school bus found it difficult to climb some of the steep grades and, at one point, slid backwards.

The group really rattled the waitress at the refreshment stand at Fisherman's Warf when 19 hot chocolates and 10 teas were ordered.

The olympic pool at California High was great for swimming. When the Stockings arrived, there was barely room for anyone else.

The adults did manage to get away a few times — once for the traditional trip to the Wine Country, and once for a night out in San Francisco and dinner at the Hilton.

When last seen, the group was off to Disneyland and all points south. The Grand Canyon is on the itinerary for the trip on the way back to Canada.

Twenty came. but how many will made it back is anybody's guess. At any rate, Bath Court in San Ramon will never be the same again.

And what awaits Nick Barber, father of thirteen children, when he returns to work after the vacation? He's a school principal.

Center celebrates today's anniversary of 19th Amendment

The 55th anniversary of women's suffrage will be celebrated with an open house at the South County Women's Center today from noon to 9 p.m.

The center is located at 25036 Hillary St., Hayward. Fifty-five years ago on Aug. 26, 1920 women were granted the right to vote with the enactment of the 19th Amendment the the United States Constitution, often called the Susan B. Anthony Amendment.

Prior to the adoption of the amendment, women were not allowed to vote in national and in most state and local elections, although today most people consider suffrage a basic inalienable right.

The struggle for women suffrage began more than 100 years ago with many women making speeches, lobbying, filing petitions and writing. Several women, Susan B. Anthony among them, challenged the prohibition against women's suffrage by registering for and voting in a national election. They were arrested and convicted of voting illegally, but remained undaunted in their efforts to end the disenfranchisement of women.

To celebrate the anniversary of their victory in 1920, the South Women's Center will recognize the efforts and achievement of women with activities throughout the day.

Voter registrars will be on hand all day, and a petition reaffirming commitment to passage of the Equal Rights Amendment will be available for signing. Written material about local women's organizaitons will also be available.

Beginning at 6:30 p.m several speakers will lead a discussion of aspects of women seeking and holding public office.

More of everything at Del Valle

Sneak preview of $3 million facelift

LIVERMORE — Del Valle Regional Park's all-new west bank — featuring campsites, two beaches and parking for 1,100 cars — will be open to the public by early October.

That news comes from East Bay Regional Park District headquarters in Oakland. Del Valle has been limping along for the past year and a half with half its facilities closed due to construction.

A quarter of a million people are expected to visit the park during the coming year, now that a $3 million state construction project is done.

The park is nine miles south of Livermore, reached via Mines Road off South Livermore Avenue (which is also torn up with construction.)

The new area features two beaches totaling 12 acres; 250 picnic sites; 16 acres of automatically-irrigated turf; 67 new family campsites; 18 new buildings; a self-contained on-site sewerage system; and a water treatment and purification plant.

For those who haven't visited us for a year or so, there will be profound surprises in store," said Park Supervisor Anthony H. Smith.

"The dust, for the most part, is gone; inviting green lawns are found in eight different locations; the chemical toilet has been banished in the southern area of the 3,442-acre park; and by May, 1976, there will be concession stands on both the Arroyo (east) and Rocky Ridge (west) sides of the lake."

Del Valle is becoming one of the largest park facilities of its kind in Northern California, according to Donald Harms, East Bay Regional Park District assistant chief of planning and design.

He will be helping to spend some $250,000 more in state funds for 47 more family campsites, paving of bike paths, paving the 300-stall parking lot near the boat launching ramp and beach curbing.

All of the heavy development in the park is centered in the southern one-mile area and the northern four miles of the park has been left substantially in its natural state.

The completely redesigned and refurbished Digger pine Flat Family Campground area now has a 200-capacity "campfire center" or amphitheatre where EBRPD naturalist campfire programs will probably be offered on Fridays and Saturdays.

The amphitheatre may also lend itself to outdoor weddings, speculates Park Supervisor Smith.

The big sewage plant system with its two half-acre evaporation ponds is served by six sewage lift stations and is one of five such stations in the West.

The ponds are lined with plastic that has a life of 20 years and cost the state $82,000.

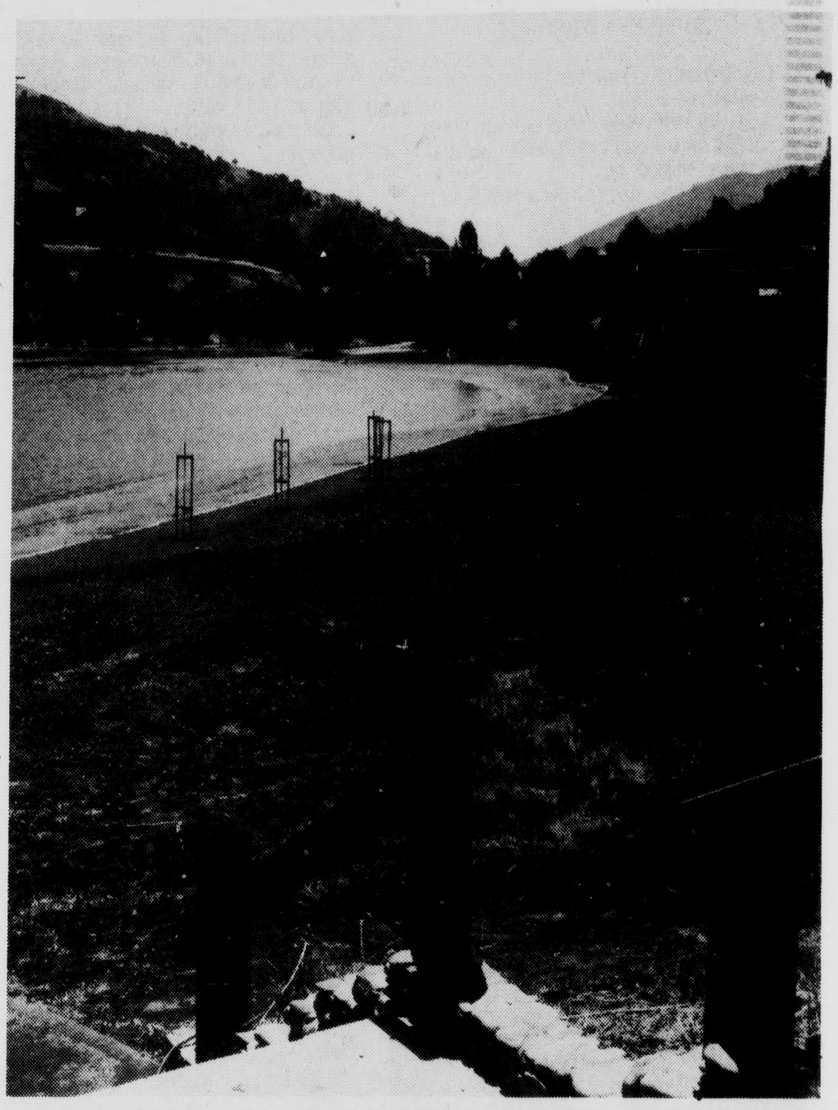
The water treatment and purification plant, whose intake is the lake, has a 600,000-gallon storage in two redwood tanks. The system supplies the entire south end of the park with water, including irrigation.

Restrooms are made of Alaskan cedar. The beaches have been supplied with one foot of pea gravel which will resist shifting in the afternoon breezes and, as Smith put it, "keep the sand out of your potato salad."

In addition to the projected 114 family campsites being provided by the state, EBRPD maintains four minimum-facility group campsites with a total capacity of 200. Two of the sites are down the lake, accessible only by long hikes or boat rides The other two are about 300 years off a road.

Those facilities have a group camp fireplace, chemical toilet, three tables and tree garbage cans. Occupants must bring precut firewood, a first aid kit and drinking water.

Concession stand will offer food, bait, boat rentals.



Six-acre beach on west side of Lake Del Valle has twin on opposite shore.

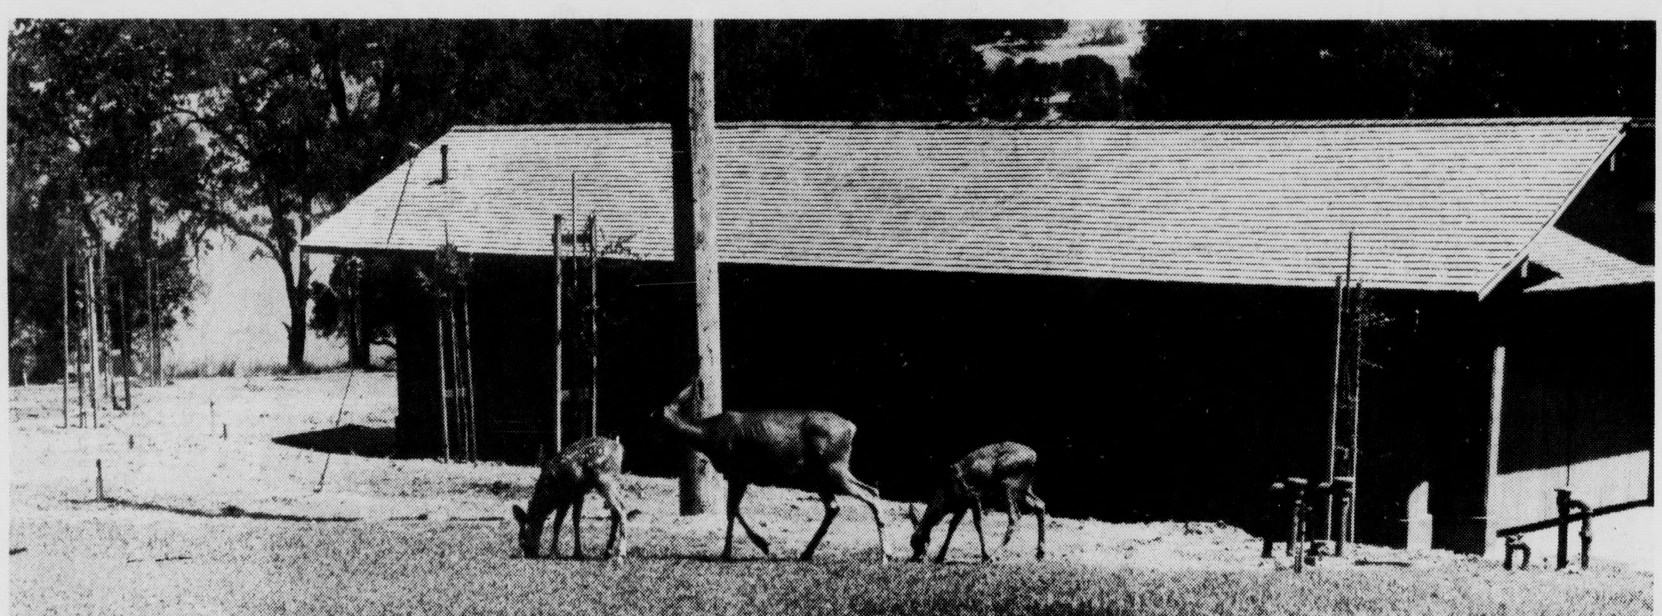
No swimming here: Sewage ponds are part of the park's self-contained sewage treatment plant.



Deer, protected year-round at Del Valle, browse in front of new cabana.

Besides these snack tables, Del Valle now has 250 big picnic tables.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

by Bernice Bede Osol

For Tuesday, Aug. 26, 1975

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Because you feel luckier than you are today, you could miscalculate and cause a loss for the family. Weigh decisions carefully.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Be cautious when you are working or traveling. You're in an impulsive mood today. This could spell trouble.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Your pocketbook is vulnerable today. Someone is ready to take advantage of your happy-go-lucky nature.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Just when things seem to be opening up for you, a sudden problem at home prevents you from getting what you want.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 23) Watch what you say or do today. A thoughtless remark or act could make you wish you could disappear quickly.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Shy away from borrowing anything today. Things will not happen as you anticipate. A friendship could be severely damaged.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Your erratic temperament negates anything someone might do in your behalf. In addition, it causes you to project a poor image.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You could find yourself working alone on a mess someone else started. This won't put you in the best frame of mind.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Thoughtless actions of a friend produce some changes in your plans that aren't what you intended or desired.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) A partner or associate could cause a problem for you by piling additional heavy responsibilities on your shoulders.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You will have difficulty today applying yourself to mental work because of unusual and frequent interruptions.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Keep romance out of the picture today. Unexpected expenses will pop up to put a damper on your enjoyment.

Five diamonds is a better contract than three notrump, but expert South was in three notrump. He ducked one spade. Sometimes defenders shift suits, but a second spade was led.

He needed a successful club finesse to collect 10 tricks, but South saw there was a slight extra chance. East just might hold the singleton king of diamonds.

Anyway, South wasn't vulnerable and decided it was worthwhile to play the diamond ace to see what would happen.

He did and East dropped the king. Now South relaxed. He led a second diamond to dummy's 10. East discarded a spade!

West asked, "No diamonds partner?" After a repeated question East produced the jack. It won the trick and since East had exposed a spade he had to lead it. South went one down and to make matters really bad the club finesse was on all the time.

Ask the Jacobys

A Toronto reader asks, "What do you think of the Canadian Acol bidding system?"

We haven't space to describe it in full, but it is a sound, freewheeling system that is slightly inferior to standard American. Although our Canadian friends who use it will be likely to disagree.

One interesting feature is the suit two-bid. Two clubs is a forcing catch-all; other two-bids are one-round forces and show strong distributional hands without an inordinate number of high cards. Thus: ♠ A K Q J 5 4 3 ♥ A Q 3 2 ♦ 2 ♣ 2 would be opened two spades in Canadian Acol. So would many slightly weaker hands.

CARNIVAL

"I gorgot to tell you, Elmo, I had a water softener installed today!"

SIDE GLANCES

"That's textbooks for you! Two pages about Paul Revere, and about Mrs. Revere — nothing!"

New faces boost San Ramon's grid chances

Mention last year's 4-4-1 record, and San Ramon head football coach Fred Houston does more shifting than a school administrator at a budget meeting.

"I've got no specific goals for this year," says Fred. "I'm optimistic, but I'm not a fool. Tell you what. Wait another ten minutes, and you can talk to some of the players."

Some of the players gathered around, and veteran fullback Mike Bowles was the first to offer his unabashed forecast for the coming season.

"I think we'll go undefeated," proclaims Bowles. "That's not an exaggeration."

The Wolves opened pre-season drills yesterday with 35 varsity candidates, and Houston expects a few more to join the group as family vacations end and classes begin.

"Just by taking a look around, you can see that we're a pretty physical group," says Houston. "I'm not worried about conditioning. These guys are in good shape. The main thing we've got to concentrate on now is skills. We've got a lot of work to do."

Figuring heavily in the Wolves' 1975 prospectus will be three transfer students, one of whom is well known to followers of the local prep scene.

Kevin Buckowatz, running back and placekicking specialist, has moved to Danville from Dublin, and should provide juice for the SR offense.

Another local transfer is Dave Miller, brother of 1974 varsity back Paul Miller, who has chosen to sit out this season. Dave comes from California High, where he played fullback and linebacker. "He's untried, but he's still a good prospect," says Houston. "How do you like that? His brother's not out, so we just trade one for one."

The third newcomer could be the most promising. Glen Martin, a 6-1, 200-pound fullback-guard, worked out with the backs yesterday and will probably be used as a ball carrier this season.

Martin began his high school career in Los Altos, moved to Indiana for his sophomore year, and played last year in Pennsylvania.

Houston will have four quarterback candidates to work with, as the Wolves maintain their wishbone attack.

Jon Arnaudon was last year's JV signal-caller. "He's a good athlete, he just needs the time and the experience," says Fred.

Dave Tricaso, who served as last year's varsity backup to Carl Speck, is in his fifth year as a triple-option quarterback. Houston classifies him as "small, but fast and smart."

Tricaso's confidence is brimming, however. "This year, I've finally got it together," says the 5-11, 150-pound senior.

Another hopeful is Steve Ellis, who started in the defensive backfield last year. After three years of preparation, Houston hopes to give Ellis a shot at the job this season.

The fourth prospect to lead the offense is none other than Houston's son Guy, a sophomore. "That old boy has a lot to learn," says Fred. "At least now I've got somebody to gripe at when I come home. I keep telling him, 'You've just got to get older.'"

The Wolves open by traveling to Napa to meet Vintage. San Ramon defeated the Crushers, 28-12, in last year's home opener, but Houston reminds that SR's first opponent finished 1974 with a 7-3 mark.

Berkeley comes next. The Yellowjackets were 8-3 last year, so the Wolves' pre-league testing should be thorough. Kennedy of Fremont is the next opponent, a substitution for Ygnacio Valley, which ran into league commitments when Northgate joined the DVAL varsity loop.

The fourth non-league game is a home affair against San Jose High, which proved a soft touch for the Wolves last year.

Houston rates the league as "tough."

"Dublin lost only three kids from last year's defense," he says. "I've got a lot of respect for them. Granada's going to be strong too, and Amador's loaded to the hilt. They've got all their backs coming back."

Echoing the sentiments of his teammates, veteran guard-linebacker Henry Navarro says that the key to success this year is knocking off league champion Dublin. Navarro is also high on the addition of Martin to the squad. "He was full bore in spring training. It was fantastic. The guy's going to be all-league."

Ideal, 3-1

Two runs in the top of the sixth inning gave Ideal Drayage the necessary margin over The Atom Repairmen Friday night as they went on to a 3-1 Livermore Slow-Pitch softball win.

Jim Murphy shut out the Repairmen through five innings and allowed just six hits in the entire game. Murphy, batting ninth, also had two rbi as he went 3-for-3, all singles.

Centerfielder Bob Landon was 2-for-3 batting just ahead of Murphy and had a triple and an rbi.

For the losers, lead-off batter George Metz, who also pitched a good game, was 2-for-3 with a double. Gene Levene drove in Atom's only run.

Bill Geyer of Paul Marsh Shell had the day's outstanding pitching effort as he blanked the Herald and News, 8-0, on five hits. Gyer was also an offensive factor as he went 2-for-3.

Joe Goralka was also 2-for-3 (including a double as was Skip McDonald. Rightfielder Dave Strong was the hitting star, though, as he was a perfect 3-for-3.

The hapless Scribes could manage only one extra base hit, a double by Steve Stevins in the fifth inning.

Baronis Construction tore down New York Life, 19-5, in the other league game.

Hitting stars for the builders were:

Bill Rossknecht, 4-for-6; Dennis Higgins, two doubles; Tom Wilson, who hit for the cycle 4-for-5; Roy Ancia 5-for-5 with two triples and a double; Rocky Torrice, 3-for-5 with a triple and Lee Higgins, 4-for-5 including a triple.

Seats for Pele

Plenty of tickets are surprisingly still available for the San Jose Earthquakes game Wednesday night with the New York Cosmos and Pele.

San Jose spokesman Tom Mertens said yesterday that over 2000 good seats remain for the game, featuring the universally hailed greatest player in soccer history, and that general admission will be sold at Spartan Stadium the night of the game.

Mertens said that an NASL-enforced ticket plan may be the reason for the slow sales of tickets to Wednesday's showcase exhibition.

"The league made us sell tickets to the championship and New York games as a package," he expalined, "and I think a lot of people probably thought that the title game would sell out and thus the Pele game." The Tampa Bay Rowdies won the NASL cup Sunday, 2-0, over the Portland Timbers before over 17,000 in Spartan Stadium.

"Without the home team playing, we didn't know what to expect, but we were very happy with the turnout," said Mertens of Sunday's enthusiastic crowd, which included busloads of fans from Portland and a contingent of Florida "Fannies". Tickets for the so-called "Pele game" are available at all BASS outlets.

No confirmation on Giants' sale

The San Francisco Giants yesterday withheld confirmation of a United Press International story which reported the sale of the club to a group of wealthy Japanese industrialists.

The story, by UPI sports editor Milton Richman, said the Tokyo group had offered $17 million for the National Exhibition Co., including the organization's hotel and baseball interests in Casa Grande, Ariz. According to Richman, a handshake sealed the agreement.

However, a Giants spokesman yesterday announced that negotiations were still in progress between owner Horace Stoneham and the Japanese group.

It is unlikely that Stoneham will confirm the sale of the team before the season ends, but the rumored acquisition by the Japanese is said to strengthen the chances of the Giants' remaining in the Bay Area.

Federal aid cuts prices

Sunol lunch program starts

SUNOL— The Sunol Glen Elementary School District will inaugurate a free meal and free milk and reduced price meal policy during the 1975-76 school year.

The service is for children unable to pay the full price of meals and milk served in schools under the National School Lunch and Special Milk Programs.

Sunol Glen school officials have adopted the following family size-income criteria for use in determining eligibility:

Children from families with a monthly gross income from all sources at or below the following levels shall be eligible for free meals, free milk and reduced price meals, family size (1)— monthly gross income of zero to $269; family size (2)— zero to $353; family size (3)— zero to $438; family size (4)— zero to $522; family size (5)— zero to $599; family size (6)— zero to $676; family size (7)— zero to $746; family size (8)— zero to $816.

A family size of one means a pupil who is his sole support. A foster child may be considered a family of one. The amounts quoted are the monthly gross income standards.

The scale is for those families whose children could qualify for free meals AND free milk.

For reduced price meals, the following standards have been established:

Family size (1)— monthly gross income $270 to $377; family size (2)— $354 to $494; family size (3)— $439 to 612; family size (4)— $523 to $731; family size (5)— $600 to $838; family size (6)— $677 to $947; family size (7)— $747 to $1,044; family size (8)— $817 to $1,142.

School food authorites are not permitted to deviate from the standards listed, except that if only free meals are provided, all reference to reduced price meals should be deleted. If the school does not participate in the special milk program, all reference to free milk should also be deleted.

NOTICE OF INTENT
TO FILE A NEGATIVE DECLARATION
HARRIS ACRES WATER LINE
August 26, 1975

In accordance with the provisions of CEQA as set forth in Pleasanton's Environmental Guidelines and Procedures and the special provisions of HUD's Environmental Review Procedures for the Community Development Block Grant Program, the proposed water line for the Harris Acres tract has been determined to require a negative declaration.

The project consists of replacing existing inadequate water lines with 2,700 feet of 6 to 8 inch water line to serve the area known as Harris Acres. Approximately 8 fire hydrants would be installed. Placement of the lines would be under the following existing streets: Whiting Street, Gale Avenue, and portions of Abbie, East Angela, and Third Streets.

It is the finding of the Director of Housing and Community Development that this project would not create, to a significant degree, any effects which indicate that the environment may be harmed. No change in land use would result from the project. All effects would be temporary construction impacts. An Environmental Review Record (upon which this finding is based) has been made concerning this project and may be examined and copied at the Department of Housing and Community Development, 200 Bernal Avenue, Pleasanton, CA 94566. No further environmental review of this project is proposed and the City (through the County) intends to request that HUD release funds for this project.

For more information on this case, contact the Department of Housing and Community Development, 200 Bernal Avenue, Pleasanton, CA 94566, telephone 846-3202.

Unless any written appeals of this case are received by this department within fifteen (15) working days after the publication of this notice in the Pleasanton Times or by September 18, 1975, whichever is later, this decision will become effective.

NOTICE OF INTENT TO FILE A NEGATIVE DECLARATION
PETER'S AVENUE - ST. MARY'S STREET TO ROSE AVENUE
August 26, 1975

In accordance with the provisions of CEQA as set forth in Pleasanton's Environmental Impact Guidelines and Procedures and the special provisions of HUD's Environmental Review Procedures for the Community Development Block Grant Program, the proposed Peter's Avenue widening and extension has been determined to require a negative declaration.

The project consists of the acquisition of a 60 foot right-of-way and construction of a 40 foot street along the route of Peter's Avenue between St. Mary's Street and Rose Avenue, a distance of two blocks. A half-street for one of these blocks is already in place. The project would include construction of the street, sidewalk, curbs, and utility extensions. Acquisition would entail purchase of vacant lands and the YMCA building on Rose Avenue.

It is the finding of the Director of Housing and Community Development that this project would not create, to a significant degree, any effects which indicate that the environment may be harmed. Primary impacts are largely construction related noise which would be temporary. Secondary impacts include some land use modifications in the area and an increase in traffic and noise levels, but levels not exceeding the ambient noise level standards.

An Environmental Review Record (upon which this finding is based) has been made concerning this project and may be examined and copied at the Department of Housing and Community Development, 200 Bernal Avenue, Pleasanton, CA 94566. No further environmental review of this project is proposed and the City (through the County) intends to request HUD to release funds for this project.

For more information on this case, contact the Department of Housing and Community Development, 200 Bernal Avenue, Pleasanton, CA 94566, telephone 846-3202.

Mori voted for veto override

SACRAMENTO — Assemblyman Floyd Mori voted last week to override Governor Edmund G. Brown Jr.'s veto of SB 220, which would have meant an additional $500,000 to school districts in this Assembly District.

That override vote failed by a 41 to 34 margin in the State Assembly.

Mori said he joined the 33 other assemblymen in voting to override the veto after attempting to "divorce myself from the politics of the issue and to evaluate (it) solely on the merits of the proposed legislation."

It has been said the quality of education in California must be upgraded, Mori added. "At this point, I am merely concerned with maintaining existing programs in schools within my district."

An override of the veto would have meant an additional $500,000 to school districts within the 15th Assembly District, to the benefit of students throughout the district, Mori said.

The Democrats were urged by the governor and party leadership to vote against the voerride. In spite of this, Mori said, "I felt that the potential benefit to students in my district outweighed any political considerations."

He added, "I am aware the funding provided by SB 220 is only a short-term solution to the immediate problem and I have committed myself to developing long-range solutions."

Mori also said, "What is needed is a restructuring of the tax system to provide an adequate and consistent source of financing for public education."
